The New York University eleven rehearsed all its plays, formations and signals in the final signal practice on Ohio Field yesterday, in preparation for the game with Trinity this afternoon. All the regulars reported at an early hour and made the best of the daylight in practicing their open plays.

Coch Wall did not allow either the regulars or the subs to leave the field until everything ran along smoothly and in machine-like manner. Egan, who has been on the sick list, was back on the job as quarterback. Baker, the end made two weeks ago, who was unable to make his debut against Union because of his failure to hand in to the college authorities his eligibility slip, will undoubtedly be given a chance to lunge against Trinity.

Otherwise the line-up will consist of the same men as before. Finley and Gardner will guard the wings, with Sokolow and Fernandez immediately adjacent to them to do the tackling. Pillo and Goff will make the stand in the guard positions. Archie Brinn will be the ball passer. Johnson and Christopher will back the line from the halfback situation. Covello and Baker will take turns serving in the capacity of fullback. Egan will be the field general.

Reinald Werrenrath, the noted baritone, will honor his alma mater with his presence. He will call upon the student body to serve as a chorus in rendering patriotic songs between the halves.

Rutgers Players Have Day of Rest

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 5.—The Rutgers football squad was given a rest this afternoon, after the hard game with West Virginia on Saturday. Although no member of the squad was injured, the men are stiff and sore from the battering of the heavy Virginia backfield, which outweighed even the Rutgers' line.

A scrimmage will be held to-morrow with the scrubs in preparation for the game with Springfield next Saturday. That is the last game on the schedule, but Manager MacDonnell is negotiating for contests on November 17 and 24. It is probable that Eddie Mahan's team of marines will come to New Brunswick on November 17, and relations have been entered into with one of the best teams in the East for the final contest, which will probably be played here also.

Longer Practise For Army Eleven

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The Army team was back to the gridiron this afternoon for a light drill. The team came through the Notre Dame contest with but slight bruises. More time will be afforded the men from now until the season closes, and the practice training in the military drills has subsided enough to give the teams about an hour's real workout in togs each day. A general improvement in the work of the eleven is looked for, and preparations for the Carlisle game, which is the next on the schedule, will take definite form to-morrow.

On Wednesday the team will have an extended drill. Three more games remain on the schedule before the season closes, those with Carlisle November 10, Lebanon Valley November 17 and Boston College November 24.

Michigan-Chicago Game Now Almost Certain
CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Favorable replies from all of the "Big Ten" colleges, except Purdue, had been received to-day regarding the proposal for a post-season football game here on December 1 for a war charity between the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan.

In order to comply with the rules of the conference it is necessary to obtain unanimous consent for games not on the regular schedule, but the athletic officials of the two institutions are so confident that Purdue's reply will be favorable that they have taken the matter of disposing of the seats at the game. Many of the alumni of the schools have expressed an opinion in favor of auctioning the seats in order to obtain the largest possible revenue from the game.

Herman Gets Decision
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—Pete Herman, world bantamweight champion, was awarded a decision by Referee Goldman and Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, here to-night at the end of a twenty-round bout.

Cline Defeats Jackson
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Irish Pat Cline had the better of Willie Jackson in a fact six-round bout here to-night. Both men are from New York and are lightweights. Cline was the aggressor in all except the third round, which went to Jackson by a shade.

Bouts at Crescent A. C.
Special bouts make up the boxing programme at the Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn, to-night. The main event will be between Jim Sullivan, and Metropolitain Association champion, and Robert Glasgow, of Newark.

Over the Top

Yes, it's a fight—
But on by the Shadows and out through the Night!
Taking the Break of the Game as it cracks,
Head up and ready for counter attacks!
Soaking up Sorrow and Pain as we go,
Crashing through Trouble and Heartache and Woe,
Knowing that Fate, through the length of its span,
Never has beaten a good Fighting Man!
Knowing that Fate, with its scurriest trick,
Never has won from the Fellow Who Sticks!
Head up and ready on with the play,
Though we must stumble o'er graves in the way!

Yes, it's a scrap—
But the far line is ready to fill up each gap!
Knowing that life has emerged from the gleam
Of softness and slumber that leads to a Dream.
Heads up and ready to travel the road,
However weary the burdening load.
Heads up and ready for whatever's due,
Pulling together and seeing it through!
Playing the game to the end of the row,
Set for the scrimmage with blow against blow!
Set for the Reaper that harvests this crop—
Heads up and ready—and Over the Top!

Southern Machines
Georgia Tech's great 1917 strength might be employed to call attention to the fact that the South has at one time or another sent more than one powerful eleven to the field—especially powerful when it is considered that practically no Southern squad has over 500 or 600 men to draw from.

There was the Vanderbilt array of some years back, which, within a year or two, tied Yale and the Navy and beat one of Carlisle's strongest teams 5 to 0.

There was the Virginia team which beat Yale, and there have been one or two Auburn teams of exceptional strength.

The South in the last ten years has produced any number of individual stars who compared favorably with All-American selections, but who were too far away from All-American observation to be given a chance.

In Sport
Sport, through the many years back, has been looked upon merely as a recreation and a diversion, with no other value.

But consider these details:
There have been interested in one form of sport or another—baseball, football, golf, tennis, boxing, track work, etc.—at least 15,000,000 Americans.

These, through sport, have known far better physical development and far greater stamina than they would have known without sport. This means they have all been far better trained for the purposes of waging a winning war.

Through sport they will be able to drill better, to march farther and to shoot truer than if they had never known the outdoor call.

Henry Newbold outlined the worth of sport in his "Vita Lampada":

"The sand of the desert is sodden red,
Red with the wreck of a square that broke—
The galling jammed and the colonel dead,
And the regiment blind with dust and smoke."

The river of death has brimmed its banks,
And England's fame and honor a name,
But the voice of a schoolboy rallies the ranks,
"Play up! Play up! and play the game!"

Too many millions in America have been taught the worth of playing out the game not to be ready for any shock that may strike with whatsoever force.

If the war situation in this country seems rasping now, think of the early Americans of only 150 years ago who had to hold a hoe or an axe in one hand and a rifle in the other, with an Indian aiming from almost every other tree.

"Many are called, but few are chosen" was hardly written of the army draft.

Morris High Has Hard Game in Commerce Clash

Schoolboy Contests To-day Have Big Bearing on Football Title

By A. C. Cavagnaro
Schoolboy teams of the greater city will engage in their most important football games of the season when they oppose their rivals on the various gridirons throughout the city this afternoon.

The results of several of the contests will have a big bearing on the awarding of the borough championships.

Morris High School plays its first game in the Manhattan-Bronx series, when it meets the High School of Commerce at the Polo Grounds.

The match is expected to prove a closely fought contest, in spite of the fact that Commerce has not enjoyed its measure of success this season. Both schools have been drilled in the fundamentals of old-fashioned football, which is expected to predominate throughout the contest.

Commerce Team Improves
The rise of the Commerce eleven has been noticeable since its defeat by Stuyvesant High School three weeks ago. The team then showed a decided lack of training, and was unable to display a defense to break up the forward play of the visitors. Since then, however, it has improved considerably.

Commerce was defeated by the Columbia eleven, 6 to 0, but followed this up with a victory over the Naval Reserve team, of Manhattan Point, Long Island, last Saturday, by a score of 18 to 0.

The strength of the Morris team is rather unknown, although it held Flushing High School to a no-score game a week ago. On this occasion Morris was able to make only one first down by rushing against the light Flushing team. Flushing had the ball over the Naval Reserve three times, but was held for down.

Brooklyn schoolboy circles are astir over the number of big contests scheduled. The Mecca of the greatest portion of its followers will be Ebbets Field, where a double-header will be played. Manual Training faces Erasmus Hall, while Boys' High opposes Commercial.

Of College Calibre
A contest of college calibre is that promised when the Erasmus and Manual elevens line up. Erasmus has proved itself a powerful eleven, well drilled in open play, especially in forward passing, which play it uses to great advantage. The plunging and

The Fordham eleven will play its hardest and most important game this afternoon with its ancient rival, Georgetown, at Fordham Field. The Southerners, after being carefully primed for the fray by Coach Albert Exendine, are in fine fettle and are confident of adding another link to the chain of successes achieved over Fordham in recent years.

The Fordham players, minus their big gun, Frank Frisch, are in a fighting mood, and vow that they will stop the mighty rushes of Gilroy and McQuade, the offensive stars of the Southerners. Crovet and Brennan will start in today's game, according to the line-up, which was announced last night by Coach McCaffrey. After the game starts a number of changes probably will be made.

Galligan, who played on the High School of Commerce team last season, will play in Frisch's position to-day, at right halfback. Golden will play center. McGrath will play right guard instead of Egan, while Gulick will take McGrath's place at tackle. These shifts have apparently lent strength to the Maroon front, although the Fordham forwards have a big task in view to stop the rushes of Gilroy and McQuade.

The Bronkxmen have not defeated Georgetown since 1908, when Frank Gargan led the team, on which Coach McCaffrey played right end, to a 22 to 6 victory.

Exendine's Squad Well Grounded in Warner's Tactics

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Georgetown, hard hit by the call to the colors, battles Fordham to-morrow at The Bronx for the Jesuit championship of the East. The Hilltoppers, though handicapped by an entirely new set of forwards, have yet to be defeated this season, and they are the only York confident of their ability to win from the Maroon.

Coach Exendine has grounded his squad well in Glenn Warner's style of deceptive attack. The team is double and triple passes, short and long forward passes, wide runs around the ends, with direct plunges into the line, feature Georgetown's game, and special formations have been perfected for the Fordham contest.

Of the seven men on the scrimmage line only Tommy Whelan was a regular last season, while Smeech played a few games as a substitute. The others are playing their first varsity football this year.

Behind the line Cody played quarterback on the scrubs in 1916, but the three stars of the team of the year that lost only to the Navy in an early-season game at Annapolis.

Columbia Seeks New Quarterback

That Columbia is determined to redeem her defeat by Amherst on Saturday is shown by the way in which the coaches are taking the men back to the rudiments of the game and making sure of a stable groundwork before planning any shifts for the Hobart game.

Yesterday's work-out consisted of a thorough tackling practice and drill in simple formations. All of the possible kickers were given a try, putting and constant shifts were made as to quarterback. In addition to Rosen, who piloted the team against Amherst, Lester, Weinstein and Ganspary were all given a chance. Of the four, Rosen seems to have the best grasp of the position, though Weinstein, the newest candidate, shows promise.

Houlihan is resting his injured arm, but expects to be out in uniform again Wednesday. Coach MacIntyre expects to have the most interest practice week yet. He has announced that no excuses will be allowed for absence at practice on any day.

This rule was in effect yesterday, for all of the freshmen, scrub and varsity were on hand, with the exception of Houlihan.

Among the other games to be played are those between Brooklyn Prep and New Utrecht, at Ulmer Park, and Hamilton Institute and Flushing, on the latter's grounds.
